Report of Independent Auditors

Board of Trustees Abilene Christian University

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Abilene Christian University (the University), which comprise the consolidated statements of financial position as of May 31, 2016 and 2015, and the related consolidated statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Abilene Christian University as of May 31, 2016 and 2015, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated July 28, 2016, on our consideration of the University's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the University's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

May 31, 2016 and 2015

NOTE A - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Consolidation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the financial position, activities, and cash flows of Abilene Christian University (the University or ACU), a not for profit institution of higher education in Abilene, Texas; its subsidiaries, ACIMCO and ACU Management LLC; and additionally the Grace L. Woodward Memorial Endowment Trust. All significant interrelated accounts and transactions have been eliminated in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Basis of Accounting

The consolidated financial statements of the University have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAP). The focus of these financial statements is to present the University as a whole and to present balances and transactions according to the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. This has been accomplished by classification of transactions into three classes of net assets - unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted.

- Unrestricted net assets—Net assets not subject to donor-imposed stipulations.
- Temporarily restricted net assets—Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that may or will be met by actions of the University and/or the passage of time.
- Permanently restricted net assets—Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that they be maintained permanently by the University. Generally, donors of these assets permit the University to use all or part of the income earned on related investments for general or specific purposes.

Statement of Activities

The University defines operating activities, as included in the accompanying statement of activities, as the revenue and expenses resulting from its educational programs and other core mission activities. Donor-restricted contributions to endowments and capital contributions, as well as investment returns in excess of the University's defined spending limit, are excluded from operating activities and separately reported as non-operating activities in the accompanying statement of activities.

Contributions

Contributions, including unconditional promises to give, are recognized as revenues in the period received. Conditional promises to give are not recognized until the conditions on which they depend are substantially met. Contributions of assets other than cash are recorded at their estimated fair value. Contributions received with donor-imposed restrictions that are met in the same year as received are reported as revenues of the unrestricted net asset class.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Contributions - continued

Contributions to be received after one year are discounted at an appropriate discount rate commensurate with the risks involved. Amortization of discount is recorded as additional contribution revenue in accordance with donor imposed restrictions, if any. An allowance for uncollectible contributions receivable is provided based upon management's judgment, including such factors as prior collection history, type of contribution, and nature of fund-raising activity. Contributions of land, building, and equipment without donor stipulations concerning the use of such assets are reported as revenues of the unrestricted net asset class. The University does not imply a time restriction on the use of contributed long-lived assets unless specified by donors. Contributions of cash or other assets to be used to acquire land, building, and equipment with such donor stipulations are reported as revenues of the temporarily restricted net asset class; the restrictions are considered to be released upon the acquisition of such assets.

Endowment

The University's endowment is subject to the version of the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (UPMIFA) enacted by the state of Texas, which is described in Note I. Under Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) Topic 958 Not-for-Profit Entities, a not-for-profit organization that is subject to an enacted version of UPMIFA shall classify a portion of a donor-restricted endowment fund of perpetual duration as permanently restricted net assets. The amount classified as permanently restricted shall be the amount of the fund (a) that must be retained permanently in accordance with explicit donor stipulations, or (b) that in the absence of such stipulations, the organization's governing board determines must be retained (preserved) permanently consistent with the relevant law.

Fair Value Measurements

ASC Topic 820 Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures (ASC 820) provides a framework for measuring the fair value of assets and liabilities and illustrates key considerations in determining the fair value of a financial asset when the market for that financial asset is not active. The standard establishes a hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to fair value measurements based on the extent to which inputs to valuation techniques are observable in the marketplace. The University has implemented this standard with respect to the valuation of its financial assets and liabilities and their corresponding designations within the fair value hierarchy described in Note O.

Fair Value Option

For certain assets and liabilities, the University has elected the fair value option provided by ASC Topic 825 Financial Instruments (ASC 825), which allows entities to measure eligible financial instruments at fair value. Unrealized gains and losses on items for which the fair value option has been elected are reported within the change in net assets. The decision to elect the fair value option is determined on an instrument-by-instrument basis, must be applied to an entire instrument, and is irrevocable once elected. The University has elected to apply the fair value option to its investments in real estate and mineral interests in order to present the most relevant values on these investments.

Investments

Readily marketable equity and fixed income securities (investments readily marketable on national exchanges) are carried at fair value, as determined by the last reported sales price on the date of valuation, or if there has been no sale on that date, the average of the bid and asked prices. Real estate and mineral interests are carried at fair value based on appraised values or reserve analyses.

In addition, the University maintains non-marketable alternative investments (primarily limited partnerships) carried at fair value based on information provided by external investment managers at the most recent valuation date prior to fiscal year-end.

Other investments include cash and cash equivalents carried at cost, which approximates fair value, and notes receivable carried at net realizable value, which approximates fair value. The net realized and unrealized gains (losses) in fair value of investments are reflected in the consolidated statements of activities within investment return, net of amount designated for operations. The value of endowment support is determined by the amounts provided from the endowment to support the operations of the University. Total investment income reported in Note D is determined by combining endowment support and investment return, net of amount designated for operations.

Income and realized and unrealized gains and losses on investments of endowments and similar funds are reported as changes in permanently restricted net assets if the terms of the gift require that they be added to the principal of a permanent endowment fund; as changes in temporarily restricted net assets if the terms of the gift impose restrictions on the use of the income or if the funds have not been appropriated for use in operations; and as changes in unrestricted net assets in all other cases.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with US GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates include the valuation of investments and other financial instruments, provisions for credit losses and uncollectible pledges, asset retirement obligations, and the accumulated post-retirement benefit obligation. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

U.S. Income Tax Status and Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes

The University is a tax-exempt institution as an organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (IRC) and is not a "private foundation" under Section 501(a) of the IRC; accordingly, no provision for income taxes has been made in the consolidated financial statements. ACIMCO has also been accorded recognition as exempt from income tax under Section 501(a) of the IRC, as an organization described in Section 501(c)(3) and 509(a)(3) of the IRC.

For the years ended May 31, 2016 and 2015, the University incurred unrelated business activity related to certain retail sales, advertising, rental income, oil and gas working interest, and certain alternative investments, resulting in an immaterial amount of unrelated business income. Tax positions taken related to the University's tax-exempt status, unrelated business income activities, deductibility of expenses for unrelated business activities, and other miscellaneous tax positions have been reviewed, and management believes that material positions taken by the University will more likely than not be sustained by examination. Accordingly, the University has not recorded a liability for uncertain tax positions. As of May 31, 2016, the University's tax years 2010 to 2016 remain subject to examination.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For the purposes of the consolidated statements of cash flows, the University considers all cash and other highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The University places its cash and cash equivalents with high quality financial institutions, which at times may exceed federally insured limits. The University has not experienced any losses on such accounts. Deposits subject to credit risk were $4,729,613 and $982,340 at May 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. Cash balances of $380,000 and $347,840 at May 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively, were restricted for the Federal Perkins Loan Program and are required to be reported in a separate account.

Accounts and Notes Receivable

Accounts and notes receivable are recorded at the contractual amounts owed by students and others. The values are adjusted, when necessary, through an allowance for credit losses. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis in accordance with the terms of receivables.

ASC Topic 310 Receivables (ASC 310) addresses disclosures of student loans and other financing receivables and requires enhanced disclosures for certain financing receivables, such as student loans. Other trade receivables, such as student accounts, are exempted from the enhanced disclosures. ASC 310 defines a loan portfolio segment as the level at which an entity develops and documents a systematic methodology to determine the allowance for credit losses and a class of financing receivables as the level of disaggregation of portfolio segments based on the initial measurement attribute, risk characteristics, and methods for assessing risk. The University's student loan portfolio consists of a single segment (Student Loans). The classes of financing receivables within the Student Loan segment are Institutional Notes and Federal Perkins Notes. The allowance for credit losses is presented by portfolio segment in Note B.

Estimated allowances for credit losses are maintained at levels that, in the judgment of management, are adequate to meet the present and potential future risks of uncollectible receivable balances. Management's judgment is based on a variety of factors, which include experience related to charge-offs and recoveries and scrutiny of individual accounts and notes receivable. Receivables are unsecured and considered past due based on contractual terms. Amounts deemed by management to be uncollectible are charged to expense. Recoveries on receivables previously charged-off are credited to expense. Provisions for credit losses are charged to expense and credited to the allowance for credit losses. Past due receivables are not placed on nonaccrual status, and payments received on past due receivables are applied to principal and interest according to contractual terms.

Student loans are evaluated for possible impairment based on four credit quality status indicators: deferred, current, performing, and nonperforming.

Deferred loans do not require repayment during the time in which a student is enrolled in college-level courses based on the terms of the loan. Current loans are those in repayment status and in which the borrower remains current with all contractual terms of the loan.

Performing loans are those in which the borrower is not current with all contractual terms of the loan but has established a recent payment history. Nonperforming loans are those in which the borrower has defaulted on the terms of the loan and no recent payment history exists; nonperforming loans are considered impaired.

The assets and liabilities of student loans financed primarily by the federal government and administered by the University for the Federal Perkins Loan Program are included with those of the University. The total of the federal government portion of these net assets is included in deposits and other liabilities in the accompanying statements of financial position.

Inventories

Inventories are valued at amounts, which, in the aggregate, approximate the lower of cost or market on the first-in, first-out basis. Losses of $0 and $63,250 were recorded for obsolete inventory for the years ended May 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

Taxes Collected from Customers and Remitted to Governmental Authorities

Sales and use taxes are reported on a gross basis within revenues and costs. These taxes amounted to $909,924 and $870,473 for the years ended May 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

Property and Equipment

Investments in the physical plant are recorded at cost. Significant renovations to existing buildings are capitalized, while maintenance and repairs are expensed when incurred. Purchases and improvements under $5,000 are not capitalized. Provision for depreciation is made on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of the asset. Currently, these estimated useful lives are as follows:

Buildings and building improvements	10-55 years
Improvements other than buildings	5-15 years
Equipment	5-20 years

When disposition is made of plant assets, the cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounting records, and the resulting gain or loss is recognized in the consolidated statements of activities.

Advertising Costs

Advertising costs are expensed as incurred and totaled $1,958,611 and $283,756 for the years ended May 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The expenses of providing various programs and support services have been categorized on a functional basis in the statements of activities. NOTE I - ENDOWMENT

The University's endowment consists of individual endowment funds established for a variety of purposes including both donor-restricted endowment funds and funds designated by the Board of Trustees to function as endowments. Net assets associated with endowment funds, including funds designated by the Board of Trustees to function as endowments, are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Unrestricted endowment represents board-designated funds.

Interpretation of Relevant Law

The University interprets the State of Texas UPMIFA as allowing the University, absent donor stipulations to the contrary as stated in the gift instrument, to appropriate so much of a donor-restricted endowment fund as the University determines is prudent for the uses, benefits, purposes, and duration for which the endowment is established. In the absence of explicit donor stipulations, the University designates 50% of endowment gifts to permanently restricted net assets and 50% to temporarily restricted net assets in the endowment fund remain restricted until appropriated for expenditure by the University.

The following factors are considered in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor restricted endowment funds: 1) The duration and preservation of the fund; 2) The purposes of the University and the donor restricted endowment fund; 3) General economic conditions; 4) The possible effect of inflation and deflation; 5) The expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments; 6) Other resources of the University; and 7) The investment policies of the University.

Return Objective and Risk Parameters

The University has adopted investment and spending policies for endowment assets that attempt to provide a predictable stream of funding to programs supported by its endowment while seeking to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets. Endowments include those assets of donor-restricted funds that the University must hold in perpetuity or for a donor specified period as well as board designated funds. The University expects its endowment funds, over time, to provide an average rate of return in excess of 5.5% annually plus inflation. Actual returns in any given year may vary from this amount.

Strategies Employed for Achieving Objectives

To satisfy its long-term rate-of-return objectives, the University relies on a total return strategy in which investment returns are achieved through capital appreciation (realized and unrealized) and current yield (interest, dividends, rents, and royalties). The University targets a diversified asset allocation that places a greater emphasis on equity-based investments to achieve its long-term return objectives within prudent risk constraints.

Spending Policy and How the Investment Objectives Relate to Spending Policy

The University has a policy of appropriating for distribution each year an amount equal to 70% of an endowment's prior year distribution for spending, adjusted for inflation plus 1%, plus 30% of its beginning of year market value, times the target rate of 4.5%. Distributions are then limited to no less than 2% nor greater than 6% of beginning endowment market value and annual increases for an individual endowment to 7%. Accordingly, over time, the University expects the current spending policy to allow its endowment to grow at an average of at least 1% plus inflation annually. This is consistent with the University's objective to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets held in perpetuity or for a specified term as well as to provide additional real growth through new gifts and investment return.

NOTE J - CHARITABLE TRUSTS AND ANNUITIES

The University is party to a number of charitable trusts and annuities, the majority of which the University is the trustee. Assets under charitable trusts and annuities consist of the following at May 31, 2016 and 2015:

	2016	2015
University as trustee:
Charitable trusts	$27,126,098	$31,053,580
Charitable gift annuities	4,940,924	5,551,927
	32,067,022	36,605,507
Third-party trustee	1,456,973	1,322,222
	$33,523,995	$37,927,729

For charitable trusts and annuities for which the University is trustee, contributions are recorded at fair value in the year of the agreement and are reflected as charitable trusts and annuities in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. For the years ended May 31, 2016 and 2015, $1,082,153 and $1,216,553, respectively, were recorded as contribution revenue related to these types of agreements. In addition to the recording of the asset, a liability is recorded representing the discounted future cash flows expected to be paid to the specified beneficiary designated by the donor. The estimated liability of future cash flows is based upon the life expectancy of the donor, the current market value of the trust, and the applicable federal rate (AFR) related to each trust based on the AFR in effect at the date the trust was created. Investment income, payments to beneficiaries, and adjustments to the liability are reflected as changes in value of split-interest agreements in the consolidated statements of activities. The estimated liability for the future cash flows, as of May 31, 2016 and 2015, was $18,294,264 and $20,579,873, respectively.

NOTE J - CHARITABLE TRUSTS AND ANNUITIES - Continued

For charitable trusts of which the University is not the trustee, contributions are recognized in the year the University becomes aware of the existence of the agreement and are valued at the discounted present value of expected future cash flows. The expected future cash flows have been discounted at a rate of 6% over the life expectancy of the parties involved and calculated based upon the current market value of the trust's assets and other factors stipulated in the agreements. The present value of the expected future cash flows has been reflected as a component of charitable trusts and annuities in the consolidated statements of financial position. The change in estimated present value is reflected as a change in value of split-interest agreements in the consolidated statements of activities.

NOTE K - RETIREMENT PLAN

The University has a 403(b) defined contribution retirement plan covering substantially all full and part-time personnel. Employees are required to contribute 2% of salary to participate in the 403(b) plan, for which the University contributes up to 4% of the employee's salary. Effective January 1, 2015, employees are required to contribute 2% of salary to participate in the 403(b) plan, for which the University contributes a corresponding 100% match of the employee's salary. Employees have the option of contributing an additional 1% or 2% of base pay into the 403(b) plan, for which the University contributes a corresponding 2% or 4% of the employee's salary. Effective January 1, 2015, employees have the option of contributing an additional 6% of base pay into the 403(b) plan, for which the University contributes a corresponding 100% match of the employee's salary. University contributions under the plan, net of forfeitures, totaled $2,691,377 and $2,770,986 for the years ended May 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively.

The University has a 457(b) deferred compensation plan covering a select group of key employees. Qualified employees may defer a portion of their compensation as contributions to the plan. The University does not contribute to the plan. The values of the plan assets at May 31, 2016 and 2015 were $777,328 and $658,729, respectively, which are recorded as assets and liabilities on the consolidated statements of financial position.

NOTE L - POSTRETIREMENT BENEFITS OTHER THAN PENSIONS

In addition to the University's defined contribution pension plans, the University sponsors a defined benefit health care plan that provides postretirement medical benefits to certain retired employees who had worked 10 years and attained age 55 while in service with the University as of May 31, 1995. The University is required to recognize the funded status of this benefit plan, measured as the difference between plan assets at fair value and the benefit obligation, as an asset or liability in its statement of financial position and to recognize previously unrecognized gains or losses and prior service costs or credits as a component of its consolidated statement of activities.

NOTE M - HEALTH INSURANCE

The University maintains a partially self-funded health insurance plan with insured specific and aggregate stop-loss coverage, administered by a third party administrator. The administrator acts as the University's agent in making benefit payments on the University's behalf. The total liability for outstanding health claims was $717,000 at May 31, 2016 and 2015, and is recorded in accrued salaries and benefit expenses in the accompanying consolidated statements of financial position. Management believes the liability is adequate to fund any health claims incurred but not paid or reported as of the end of the fiscal year.

NOTE N - COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

The University leases facilities and equipment to support its study abroad programs, City Square, and other operating activities under non-cancelable operating agreements that extend through 2024. Rent expense related to these agreements for the years ended May 31, 2016 and 2015, was $825,436 and $849,122, respectively. Future minimum rentals under the non-cancelable leases as of May 31, 2016 are as follows:

Year ending May 31,
2017	$1,453,845
2018	1,758,221
2019	1,468,214
2020	1,499,084
2021	1,542,728
Thereafter	5,876,201

The University makes certain payments in currencies other than the United States dollar for its study abroad programs, which are subject to foreign currency exchange risk due to fluctuations in currency exchange rates. Gains and losses resulting from the settlement and revaluation of foreign currency transactions are recognized in the consolidated statements of activities.

At May 31, 2016, the University had open construction contracts for improvements to Dillard Hall, Wildcat Stadium, a science complex, repairs related to hail damage and central plant controls with remaining commitments of approximately $46,000,000. At May 31, 2015, Moody Coliseum, Wildcat Stadium, a science complex, repairs related to hail damage and central plant controls with remaining commitments of approximately $60,000,000.

In the normal course of operations, the University is named as a defendant in lawsuits and is subject to periodic examinations by regulatory agencies. An estimate of the possible loss or range of loss on these events cannot be made. However, after consultation with legal counsel, management believes that liabilities, if any, arising from such litigation and examinations would not have a material effect on the University's financial position, results of operations, or cash flows.

NOTE O - FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

ASC 820 requires certain disclosures about assets and liabilities measured and reported at fair value and emphasizes that fair value is a market-based measurement, not an entity-specific measurement. Therefore, a fair value measurement should be determined based on the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. As a basis for considering market participant assumptions in fair value measurements, ASC 820 establishes a three-tier hierarchy described below to distinguish between various types of inputs used in determining the value of the University's investments and liabilities.

ASC 820 also governs fair value measurements of investments in certain entities that calculate net asset value per share (or its equivalent) and requires disclosures by major category of investment about the attributes of these investments. For classification purposes, the standard provides that if a reporting entity has the ability to redeem an investment with a private investment fund at the net asset value per share (or its equivalent) at the measurement date or within the near term and there are no other liquidity restrictions, the private investment shall be categorized as Level 2 within the hierarchy of inputs described below:

Level 1 Inputs - Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets and liabilities. Level 1 assets include publicly traded securities and mutual funds. Valuations of these instruments do not require a high degree of judgment, as valuations are based on quoted prices in readily available, active markets.

Level 2 Inputs - Quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities that are not active; and inputs other than quoted prices that are observable, such as models or other valuation methodologies as described below. Assets in this category generally include real estate, certain hedge funds-of-funds, managed long/short funds, and other equity instruments.

If the University has the ability to redeem its investment at the net asset value per share (or its equivalent) at the measurement date or within 120 days thereof and upon no greater than 90 days prior written notice and there are no other potential liquidity restrictions, the investment is categorized within Level 2. Liabilities in this category include interest rate swaps and bonds payable subject to interest rate swaps.

Level 3 Inputs - Unobservable inputs for the valuation of the asset or liability. Level 3 assets include instruments for which there is little, if any, market activity. These inputs require significant management judgment or estimation. Assets in this category generally include certain hedge funds-of-funds, private equity funds, privately held stock, other similar assets, and mineral interests. These financial instruments have inputs that cannot be validated by readily determinable market data and generally involve considerable judgment by management.

Quantitative Information About Significant Unobservable Inputs Used in Level 3 Fair Value Measurements

ASC 820 requires disclosures about significant quantitative information used in valuations for instruments classified as Level 3 measurements. The estimated fair values of Level 3 assets managed and held in limited partnership and other private investment fund structures are based on the most recent valuations provided by the external investment fund managers, adjusted for receipts and disbursements through May 31. The University reviewed and evaluated the values provided by the managers and agreed with the valuation methods and assumptions used to determine those values. Accordingly, no significant quantitative information was developed by management to complete valuations for these investments.

The fair values of Level 3 mineral interests are estimated based on the expected net revenues generated by those assets. Geological reserve analysis provides additional information for estimating fair value and was used for the largest mineral interests to obtain a more informed estimate of fair value. These methods produce a range of values, and the fair value reported by the University falls within this range. The table below indicates the range of inputs associated with highest and lowest values considered by management in developing the University's reported fair value for mineral interests.

The following table describes valuation techniques, significant unobservable inputs, and ranges of significant input values for the University's Level 3 measurements at May 31, 2016:

Instrument	Fair Value	Principal Valuation Technique	Significant Unobservable Inputs	Range of Significant Input Values
Mineral interests	$35,997,145	Market approach	Multiple of recent months revenue	48 times the average monthly production for the last year (low) to 10 times the most recent annual production revenue (high)
		Expected net revenues (producing wells)	Geological reserve analysis	10% discount 5% discount

^{*} Redemption frequency and redemption notice periods reflect general redemption terms and exclude liquidity restrictions noted below:

- (a) This category includes investment funds that invest in a diversified portfolio of primarily U.S. based fixed income securities including: corporate bonds, treasury, agency, MBS, futures, options, and swaps. The management of the fund has discretion to allocate among the various asset groups within a risk management structure that imposes percentage allocation maximums to individual classes of securities based on rating, risk, and other criteria. Allocation to various asset types and selection of securities are influenced by economic growth, monetary policy, fiscal policy, dollar policy, commodity prices, and relative valuations. The fair value of the investments in this category has been established using the net asset value per share of the investments as provided by the fund managers.
- (b) This category includes investment funds that invest long only in emerging market publicly traded common stock focusing primarily on larger, more established companies. Investment strategies may include the shifting of concentrations among various regions depending on perceived opportunities as well as index strategies using proprietary metrics. The fair value of the investments in this category has been established using the net asset value per share of the investments as provided by the fund managers.

- (c) This category includes investments in hedge funds and hedge funds-of-funds that invest primarily in U.S. and international common stocks (both long and short). Managers of the funds typically have the ability to shift investments from value to growth strategies, from small to large capitalization stocks, and from a net long position to a net short position. The fair values of investments in this category have been estimated using the net asset value per share of the investments as provided by the fund managers.
- (d) This category includes investments in hedge funds that invest in a variety of opportunistic strategies. Investments are global in scope and include: equities (long and long-short), bonds, commodities, crops, livestock and agricultural land, precious and base metals, credit, interest rate and FX trading, insurance, energy, and private investments in public companies, as well as investments in financial services startups and other co-investments. The fair values of the investments in this category have been estimated using the net asset value per share of the investments as provided by the fund managers. Investments representing approximately $1,511,029 (or 5.6%) and $2,014,760 (or 6.7%) of this category at May 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively, are "sidepocket" investments, meaning that redemptions will not take place until the underlying investments in the sidepocket are sold. The timing of the sale of the sidepocket investments cannot be estimated.
- (e) This category includes investments in hedge funds-of-funds that pursue multiple strategies to diversify risks and reduce volatility. Investments are global in scope and include strategies such as: equity long-short, arbitrage, credit, event driven, market neutral, relative value, systematic, and trade finance. The fair values of the investments in this category have been estimated using the net asset value per share of the investments as provided by the fund managers.
- (f) This category includes investments in private equity funds and funds-of-funds that invest primarily in: distressed debt, BRIC (Brazil, Russia, India, China) country investments, energy holdings, and buyouts. The fair values of the investments in this category have been estimated using the net asset value of the University's ownership interest in the partners' capital of each underlying fund. These investments cannot be redeemed at the request of the investor. Instead, the nature of the investments in this category is that distributions are made through the liquidation of the underlying holdings. It is estimated that the underlying holdings of the funds will be liquidated over 1 to 10 years depending on the vintage year of the fund and the exit opportunities over time.
- (g) This category includes investments in venture capital funds-of-funds that invest primarily in venture capital funds that provide start-up funding primarily for U.S. companies and primarily in the technology and bio-sciences areas. The fair values of the investments in this category have been estimated using the net asset value of the University's ownership interest in the partners' capital of each underlying fund. These investments cannot be redeemed at the request of the investor. Instead, distributions are made through the liquidation of the underlying holdings. It is estimated that the underlying holdings of the funds will be liquidated over 1 to 10 years depending on the vintage year of the fund and the exit opportunities over time.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instrument:

Cash and Cash Equivalents, Accounts Receivable, and Net Advances on Lines of Credit

The carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

Contributions Receivable

The carrying amount approximates fair value as determined by discounting pledges at an appropriate discount rate commensurate with the risks involved.

Investments and Charitable Trusts and Annuities

The carrying amounts of money market funds, mutual funds, and marketable securities approximate fair value based on quoted market prices. The fair values of private equity instruments discussed above are determined in good faith by third party fund managers based on estimates of the underlying investments and appropriate market indices. The University uses these estimates as reported by the fund managers as the primary input to its estimation of fair valuation; however, other inputs are reviewed and considered in the determination of fair value including audit reports of the underlying funds. The fair values of real estate assets are based on independent appraisals. The fair values of mineral interests are based on independent reserve analyses as well as internal analysis using management's knowledge of the properties.

Long-term Obligations

Long-term obligations on the consolidated statements of financial position total $84,606,413 and $76,323,234 at May 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. Included within these amounts are bonds payable subject to interest rate swaps designated as fair value hedges with fair values disclosed in the tables above, which are determined by adjusting the principal value of the debt by the fair value of the interest rate swaps designated as fair value hedges. Also included within long-term obligations are liabilities related to interest rate swaps with fair values disclosed in the tables above, which are determined by the counterparty's present value calculations and market pricing models. Long-term obligations also include bonds and notes payable that are not reported at fair value, which have carrying values of $66,131,519 and $56,082,528 at May 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively. The fair values of the bonds and notes payable not reported at fair value were $71,956,098 and $61,926,678 at May 31, 2016 and 2015, respectively, as determined by discounting future cash flows at an appropriate rate commensurate with the risks involved. These fair values represent an estimate of what a market participant would be willing to pay to acquire the future cash flows on these instruments

NOTE P - DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS

The University entered into two interest rate swap agreements during fiscal year 2005, two interest rate swap agreements during fiscal year 2007, and one interest rate swap agreement in fiscal year 2009. Each agreement is subject to a master netting arrangement with the lender for the debt instruments, which mitigates credit risks on the swap agreements. The University accounts for these contracts in accordance with ASC Topic 815 Derivatives and Hedging and has designated these swaps as fair value hedges. The primary reason for swapping from a variable to fixed rate is to stabilize the University's operating budget vis-à-vis interest expense.

Management has completed variable to fixed rate swaps on five debt issues: 1) Series 2003 has been swapped to a fixed rate of 4.59%; 2) Series 2005 has been swapped to a fixed rate of 4.59%; 3) Series 2006 Taxable has been swapped to a fixed rate of 6.06%; 4) Series 2006B has been swapped to a fixed rate of 4.43%; and 5) Series 2009 has been swapped to a fixed rate of 3.88%. On April 1, 2015, the University repriced the Series 2003 swap from 4.59% to 2.23%. On October 1, 2015, the University repriced the Series 2005 swap from 4.59% to 2.32%.

Management has identified the following benefits of using swap agreements to accomplish the above objectives: 1) a lower fixed rate is available using a swap than by refunding at a fixed rate; 2) less administrative work and due diligence is involved in executing a swap than in a refunding. A swap is an agreement separate from the debt but mirroring the debt repayment structure; and 3) a swap does not affect the University's bank qualified debt limit.

The risks of using the proposed interest rate swaps include: 1) credit risk—risk that the counterparty will not fulfill its obligation on the swap contract; 2) basis risk—mismatch between the interest rate received from the swap contract and the interest actually owed on the debt; and 3) opportunity cost—if the floating rate that the University can pay on the debt averages below the fixed rate the University pays on the swap, then the University realizes the opportunity cost associated with locking in the higher interest rate.

The effectiveness of the swaps is judged by comparing the interest rates and key terms of the swaps with the interest rates and key terms on the underlying debt. The key terms of the swaps match the key terms of the floating rate debt and are, therefore, expected to offset the hedged cash flows of the debt.

Management believes the swaps are fully effective as of May 31, 2016 and 2015.

The schedule below summarizes the fair value of the swap contracts at May 31, 2016 and 2015:

Derivatives designated as	Statement of	.	1 .1
hedging instruments under	Financial Position	L12	ıbilities
FASB ASC 815-20	Location	2016	2015
Interest rate swaps	Long-term Obligations	$ 1.732.117	$ 1.818.234
interest rate swaps	Hong term obligations	Ψ 1,752,117	Ψ 1,010, 2 21

Because the swaps are fully effective, the University recognized gains on the hedged items (the debt issues noted above) that exactly offset the interest rate swap liabilities noted above within long-term obligations on the consolidated statements of financial position. Accordingly, the interest rate swaps have no net effect within liabilities on the consolidated statements of financial position at May 31, 2016 and 2015.

The University includes the gain or loss on the hedged items within the same location on the consolidated statement of activities—interest expense—as the offsetting loss or gain on the related interest rate swaps as follows for the years ended May 31, 2016 and 2015:

	Statement of Activities
	Location	_	2016	2015
Unrestricted gain on swaps Unrestricted loss on debt issues	Interest expense Interest expense	$	86,116 (86,116)	$ 335,690 (335,690)

As of May 31, 2016 and 2015, the aggregate notional amounts of the outstanding swaps were $18,474,894 and $20,240,706, respectively.

NOTE Q - SIGNIFICANT CONCENTRATIONS OF CREDIT RISK

The University grants credit in the form of accounts and notes receivable to students and others, a substantial portion of which are enrolled at the University. The University does not require collateral for the extension of credit with the exception of notes made to facilitate real estate sales, in which case, the collateral is typically the real estate being sold. Counterparty risks related to interest rate swap agreements are described in Note P. Management periodically monitors credit risk through the evaluation of the account's status and ability to repay.

NOTE R - ASSET RETIREMENT OBLIGATION

The University records a liability included within deposits and other liabilities in the accompanying consolidated statements of financial position for the estimated costs associated to remediate its asset retirement obligation.

The following presents a summary of the asset retirement obligation activity as of and for the years ended May 31, 2016 and 2015:

Asset retirement obligation at June 1, 2014	$ 1,932,406
Payment of asset retirement obligation	(209,606)

Payments of asset retirement obligation	(383,828)
Asset retirement obligation at May 31, 2016	$ 1,338,972
